E-Journals from AJOL

African Journals OnLine (AJOL) is the world's largest online library of peer-reviewed, African-published scholarly journals.

It has been difficult for African researchers to access the work of other African academics. In partnership with hundreds of journals from all over the continent, AJOL works to change this, so that African-origin research output is available to Africans and to the rest of the world.

The Knowledge Sharing Series – Book Talk of the month of January is featured herewith!

"Feeding Africa's Soils: Fertilizers to Support Africa's Agricultural Transformation"

This work is a product of a joint effort among several organizations, including the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA), development partners working in the field of agriculture and fertilization, as well as the University of Embu in Kenya.

The book addresses the entire spectrum of fertilizer-related challenges across Africa.

The Knowledge Management Services Section (KMSS) would like to officially extend a warm Thank You to Mr. Nassirou Ba from the Technology, Climate Change & Natural Resource Management Division (TCND) for presenting this important work.
